About nFusz, Inc

nFusz, Inc. (FUSZ), is the leader in business-focused interactive video, cloud-based, sales and lead-gen Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) products. Their flagship product, notifiCRM, is the first interactive video-based customer relationship management (CRM) platform and is accessible on all mobile and desktop devices. With notifiCRM, anyone can create, distribute, and post interactive videos that do the selling, effectively eliminating friction and sales skill from the sales process. Prospects and customers can respond to your call to action by clicking right in the video, while the video is playing and while their interest level is piqued – and no download of any kind is required. Their enterprise-class platform can accommodate any size campaign or sales organization. For more information on nFusz, Inc., visit www.nFusz.com.
